The screenshot shows the PDGA membership selection interface. At the top, a dropdown menu for 'Select country of residence:' is set to 'France'. Below this, a list of benefits for new members is provided. Three membership options are displayed: 'AMATEUR MEMBERSHIP' (black button), 'JUNIOR MEMBERSHIP' (green button), and 'PROFESSIONAL MEMBERSHIP' (green button). Each option has a brief description. Under the Amateur membership, there is a 'Length of Membership' dropdown set to 'Expires Dec 31st 2025 - $20.00 USD'. A red warning triangle with an exclamation mark points to this dropdown, with a text box explaining that the license expires on Dec 31, 2025, and advising to wait until Oct 1st for a 2026 license. A 'CONTINUE' button is at the bottom right. Hand-drawn arrows indicate the flow: a black arrow points to the country dropdown, yellow arrows point to the membership buttons, a red arrow points to the duration dropdown, and a black arrow points to the 'CONTINUE' button.
